

beechfieldhouse

hotel & restaurant

'A gem of a country house hotel, within easy reach of Bath, the Cotswolds, and everything this delightful region has to offer.'

Beechfield House is a charming, privately owned hotel situated just where the West Country starts getting interesting. The owners live on the premises and provide the highest standard of comfort and hospitality in a relaxed and informal atmosphere.

The hotel boasts an excellent restaurant, a fine wine cellar, a heated outdoor swimming pool (April to October) and 24 comfortable en-suite rooms, plus a few surprises including an arboretum of rare trees in the eight acres of beautiful grounds, a professional beauty treatment centre, and free wireless internet access so business and pleasure can go hand in hand.

The bedrooms at Beechfield House are all refreshingly different from one another, and each is named after trees you can find in the grounds. They all have woodland or garden views.

The hotel has a number of feature rooms, with either a four poster or half tester king-size bed, for that extra touch of romance.

Family rooms can sleep up to five guests in comfort. Alternatively, for that little bit of extra privacy, book the Chestnut and Oak Suite consisting of two interconnecting rooms - one with a balcony overlooking the walled garden.

Our ground floor rooms in the Coach House offer full wheelchair access to the hotel's reception, morning room, bar and dining rooms.

All rooms can be booked online from our website.

Beechfield House has a long tradition of fine cuisine to live up to. We only use the very best ingredients, whether for a candlelit dinner, a bar snack, or a bite by the swimming pool. So for breakfast, lunch, afternoon tea or dinner, you can be sure of a treat. Bon appetit!

Families with children are welcome to dine in the restaurant. A separate dining room for younger children may be available at busier times.

Menus and wine lists can be downloaded from our website.

meeting

We have four comfortable fully-equipped meeting rooms, all of which can be set up as either 'boardrooms' or as presentation 'theatres', and the largest of which can accommodate up to 80 people for a drinks reception or 70 sitting down to a banquet-style dinner. The orangery and the terrace can also be booked for your exclusive use.

Our detailed private dining and conference packs are available on our website.

Our beauty treatment room offers a comprehensive range of treatments including massage, aromatherapy, reflexology, manicures, pedicures and waxing, plus a full range of body envelopments and skincare treatments.

Our highly experienced and fully qualified beauticians are delighted to welcome both residents and non-residents for some well deserved pampering.

A list of tempting treatments is available on our website.

celebrating

Beechfield House is the ideal venue for all kinds of celebrations, from private parties to corporate entertaining. In summer our terrace is a sun-trap and makes a perfect lunchtime setting, while winter brings log fires and an aristocratic finesse to the elegance of the hotel's reception rooms.

marrying

Beechfield House, with its elegant ambience and graceful gardens, has always been a wonderful place for a classic wedding reception.

Each of our selection of licenced reception rooms also offers a splendid venue for a civil marriage or civil partnership ceremony.

Our personal wedding planners will help with all your arrangements to ensure that everything runs smoothly in the run up to, and on, your very special day.

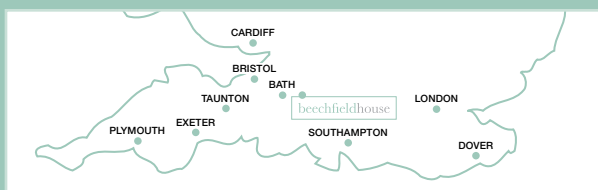

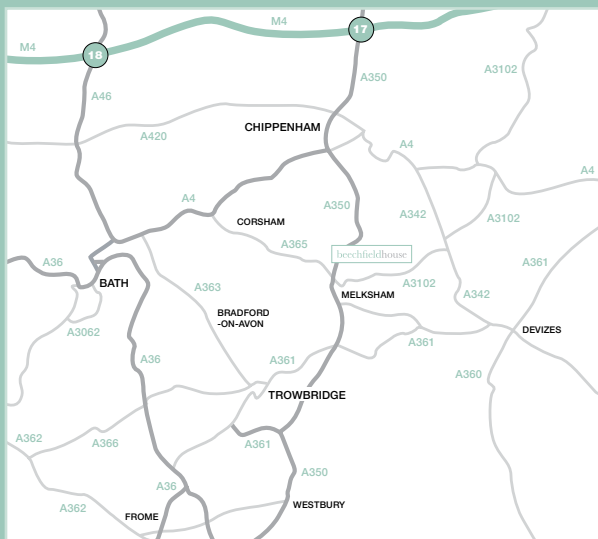

Our wedding pack is available on our website.
